

Interested in the science underlying movement and rehabilitation? Biomechanics is the field for you! You should apply for the ASB Diversity Travel Award!

WHY should I apply?

- Attend the ASB annual meeting (August 8-11, 2018) to learn more about Biomechanics for FREE!
- Access impactful mentoring from leaders in Biomechanics
- Learn about cutting-edge research and development in Biomechanics
- Develop a supportive interdisciplinary network

WHO is eligible?

- African Americans, Hispanic Americans, American Indians, Alaska Native, Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders, as well as people with disabilities
- Priority will be given to applicants who have not previously attended ASB and those who have not previously received an award.

HOW do I apply?

- View and download the application at: <http://asb2018.asbweb.org/diversity-travel-awards/>
- If you are also a student, pay special attention to information needed in student applicant section
- DUE APRIL 15, 2018!!
- Additional questions? Please contact Dr. Robin Queen (rmqueen@vt.edu)

The award will include reimbursement of $500 for travel expenses and complimentary registration.

The American Society of Biomechanics is committed to building a professional community that respects and promotes diversity and inclusion. We strive to learn from the diverse perspectives of our membership as we seek common goals for the biomechanics community.